Don't forget that Friday mornings are CUPPA time at the CTL starting January 19th from 8—1pm!

Come join us for bagels and pastries and a good ol' cup of Joe—

So You've Survived the First Week... MCC 101 for Adjunct Faculty

The Center for Teaching & Learning is excited to present a new workshop just for adjunct faculty!

Whether you've just started at MCC or have been around a while, So You've Survived the First Week will give you a better understanding of our campus and student services, as well as an overview of many of the professional development opportunities available to adjunct faculty both college and district-wide.

Come join us on Friday, January 27th from 10am—12pm or Saturday, January 28th from 8:30am—10:30am to find out what's what on campus and get some great hints for making the most of the support available to adjuncts at MCC!

Refreshments will be served and this program qualifies for Adjunct Faculty CAFÉ Credits (see sidebar for more info).

To register, visit <http://ctl.mc.maricopa.edu/index.html> and click on Workshop Registration or contact Nicole Lohrbeer to find out more: 480-461-7997 or nicole.lohrbeer@mccmail.maricopa.edu.

MOSAIC: Maximizing Our Strengths as an Inclusive Community Series

We talk about diversity, inclusion and valuing differences at Maricopa, but what does it mean? How can you improve your communication skills to be more inclusive in the classroom?

MOSAIC is a series of six sequential classes for all employees to help us:

- * Appreciate the importance of being part of an inclusive culture
- * Strengthen skills necessary for effective intergroup communication
- * Recognize and respond to harmful (discriminatory, biased or exclusionary) comments, attitudes, behaviors
- * Increase our understanding of how inclusion impacts the entire organization

Knowing Ourselves and Others
